Governor Francis W. Sargent has announced the appointment of Joseph Intingaro Associates, 98 Tremont Street, Melrose as the mechanical engineering firm responsible for the preparation of plans and specifications for interior and exterior renovations to the Massachusetts College of Art.

Work to be done includes repair of electrical, plumbing, and heating systems, as well as repair to the roof and exterior masonry. In order to bring the college up to requirements of safety, security, and educational efficiency, extensive renovations and improvement also will be planned for the interior space.

Construction costs are estimated at $260,000. Funds for the renovations were appropriated in the Capital Outlay Bill of 1974 signed by Governor Sargent.

A note from the Governance Review Committee:

We feel it is appropriate to point out that there as yet exists no student government and that the students and the college are missing a valuable, perhaps invaluable, opportunity to engage in the joint responsibilities that membership on the All-College Council and all of the committees of the Council represent.

There are many other benefits to the whole student body and the diverse elements in the student body that only an active student government can insure.

We urge the student body to organize. To do that is very simple: as soon as enough have taken out nomination papers obtainable at the office of the Dean of Students (Fullerton building) the Dean of Students will arrange for an election.
